Description and objectives

CHINLONE is a traditional and non-competitive sport, very popular in Myanmar. It is based on the cooperation between different players in keeping the ball from hitting the ground, by passing it back and forth as creatively as possible.

Its spirit, rooted in the importance of teamwork, has thus inspired the tailoring of a three-years (2018-2020) international project funded by the European Union in the framework of the Erasmus+ Capacity Building Key Action 2, which supports the modernization, accessibility and internationalization of higher education in EU Partner Countries.

The key aim of CHINLONE is to contribute to the innovation and internationalization of Myanmar's Higher Education System, so to facilitate the country's transition toward a knowledge economy. To reach this goal, the project seeks to start a lasting impact capable of encompassing: 1) the modernization of Myanmar's university management, through the introduction of innovative and internationally recognized principles; 2) a reinforced capacity to design programs, teach, and produce innovative knowledge by local faculty members, according to an approach based on students' learning outcomes; 3) the implementation and/or empowerment of International Relations Offices (IROs) in Myanmar's universities; 4) a strengthened cooperation between EU countries and Myanmar for the exchange of academic knowledge at all levels.
